Geological Work of Wind

Shaping the Earth, One Grain at a Time

- WIND IS A POWERFUL GEOLOGICAL AGENT, ESPECIALLY IN DESERTS.
- IT ERODES, TRANSPORTS, AND DEPOSITS PARTICLES, SHAPING DRAMATIC LANDSCAPES.

EROSION BY WIND

- Deflation
Lifting and removal of loose soil
- Abrasion
Sand hits rock, wearing it down

TRANSPORTATION

- ✓ Dust (Suspension)
- ✓ Sand (Saltation & Surface Creep)

DEPOSITION

As wind loses energy, it drops particles.

Landforms:
 Sand Dunes (Barchans, Seifs)
 Loess Deposits (Fertile wind-blown soil)

WHY IT MATTERS

- Creates beautiful desert landscapes
- Helps form fertile soil (Loess)
- Affects human life in dry regions
